U.S. MARINE CORPS COMMEMORATIVE

In the South Pacific, in the closing days of World War II, a gallant contingent of U.S. Marines stormed the beaches of Iwo Jima. Some of the heaviest fighting of the war, much of it hand-to-hand, began in deadly earnest. After four bloody days, it was over. The Marines raised the American flag in victory above the summit of Mt. Suribachi.

For nearly 200 years, the U.S. Marines have been there ... whenever duty called. Often that has meant close combat. In those intense times, fighting men depend on each other and on their equipment for survival, and that survival often meant a military knife, one hand-crafted by the master cutlers of Camillus Cutlery.

Camillus built millions of knives for American servicemen in World War II, and our World War II Commemorative Series (begun in 1990) recalls those fighting knives and celebrates the dedication, valor and sacrifice of America's servicemen.

Introducing the third offering ...
Camillus Cutlery's USMC2.
