Welcome to the Camillus Cutlery Company:

Camillus Cutlery is the oldest pocket knife manufacturer in the country. Since 1876, we have been providing America with quality pocket knives. We're extremely proud of the quality of our products as well as our innovative contributions to the cutlery market. Our Camillus and Western Brand products enjoy an outstanding reputation throughout the world.

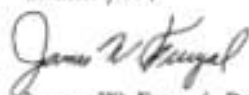

In addition to our Camillus and Western Brand products, Camillus also manufactures quality knives for the Private Label Market. With our long time heritage, Camillus Cutlery is oftentimes referred to as the "Granddaddy of the knife industry." As you look through our new catalog, you'll see why "When it comes to manufacturing quality knives . . . there's no substitute for experience."

Camillus has been setting the standard for quality knifemaking for 120 years with one thing in mind: to build lifelong quality knives at extremely competitive prices. With that in mind, we work extremely hard to provide exceptional value to our customers. Being a leading knife manufacturer and dealing direct to dealers throughout the world, we are able to transfer the savings directly to our customers. With our dealer-driven and customer-focused approach, our customers can be assured of our lifetime commitment to their total satisfaction.

Camillus has always set the industry standard for designing knives for the U.S. Military, Boy Scouts of America, the great outdoors, the working trade, the all-purpose utility market as well as a number of other needs. Interestingly enough, Camillus knives are made by third and fourth generation craftsmen and craftswomen.

Camillus is committed to the future's global needs and changes and is constantly striving to provide new technology and innovation for useful and productive living for people throughout the world.

Thank you,

James W. Furgal, President
