OF THE GREAT AMERICAN OUTDOORS

In 1977 Schrade Cutlery introduced two limited edition knives known as "Schrade Scrimshaws". These knives had Ivory Delrin handles with stamped-in Scrimshaw scenes. The acceptance was so tremendous that within five years these knives developed into a regular line consisting of eight different patterns. The name has been expanded to Schrade Scrimshaw of the Great American Outdoors.

To maintain the excitement and uniqueness of this line, Schrade changes the outdoor scene of each pattern almost every calendar year. This has generated a great deal of collector interest as well as the outstanding demand by the knife buying outdoorsmen.

"Scrimshaw" knives are all warranted under the Schrade Pledge covering materials and workmanship. All knives come totally gift packaged and are backed by Schrade's national advertising, the largest in cutlery history.

Each knife may be personalized.
